O.S.U. RUSSIAN CLUB FORMED

(1140) The Ohio State University is proud to announce the formation of an O.S.U. Russian Club--newly organized, but already hard at work planning projects for the current year, thanks to the efforts of officers Alfonz Sokol (Pres.), Pam Worner (Vice-Pres.), Connie Corrigan (Sec.), and Stephanie White (Treas.), and advisors Dr. Kalbouss and Dr. Bolen.

The club is starting off Winter Quarter with the formation of the O.S.U. Russian Folk-Singing and Dancing Troupe.

Coming this spring is the club's most ambitious project--a Russian language weekend for undergraduate students. Scheduled for April 1-3 at a camp called Temple Hills near Mansfield, this will provide Russian students with an opportunity to spend 3 days speaking Russian with other students from all over the state. There will be Russian food, singing, dancing, chess games, movies, guest speakers, and other activities in Russian. The cost is $20.00 per student. Contact the O.S.U. Slavic Dept. office at 422-6733 for further details.
